This guideline is aimed at care of persons unwell outside The National Hospital for Neurology and Neurosurgery (NHNN) and The Royal London Hospital for Integrated Medicine (RLHIM) buildings to ensure UCLH responds appropriately to safeguard the well-being of such persons and UCLH staff. It is to be used in conjunction with UCLH Cardiac Arrest Policy and is in line with other site-specific guidance at UCLH. It is only applicable to the care of persons unwell within the defined boundaries of Queen Square Buildings. There is a separate pathway for clinical emergencies within Queen Square sites.

PERSON UNWELL OUTSIDE QUEEN SQUARE BUILDINGS

RECEPTION (main NHNN Queen Square or RLHIM entrance) alerted that person unwell outside Queen Square building

GUIDELINES FOR CARE

Any staff who assist patients within the hospital are covered by the Trust's insurance
UCLH will authorise staff and will cover them to provide care within the defined boundaries of the hospital, in the case of emergencies, as long as the health professional acted within their competence

Other members of Trust staff may be first to encounter the unwell person – they should ensure that an emergency call has been placed via 2222

Other clinical staff may assist with care in conjunction with the emergency team if they are competent to do so and within the remit of this document

If a situation is assessed as posing a risk to staff, then they should not attend the call, and a 999 call should be made to emergency services

IF CARDIAC ARREST SITUATION

- Call should go to London Ambulance Service (LAS)
- Porter returns to main reception and makes cardiac arrest call to LAS via 999 clearly stating location
- Security staff may also raise 999 call via their radios and control desk
- Emergency Team commence BLS / ALS (with assistance from UCLH clinical staff in attendance)
- If Emergency Team Lead deems it safe to move, unwell person will be lifted to trolley, as per UCLH guidelines, and transferred to place of safety within NHNN
- If unsafe to move, continue acute care in current location until LAS arrives
- LAS will take over care when they attend
- Termination of resuscitation and end-of-life decisions should not be made until patient is in UCH A+E or under care of paramedic crew
- Queen Square Emergency Team do not accompany to UCH A+E

If not full cardiac arrest situation but person acutely unwell / peri-arrest follow cardiac arrest call procedure as above

External Boundary

Queen Square Gardens and the streets that border the square North, South, East and West sides
Powys Place
Outside RLHIM

If care continuing in a public area, Security to bring screens to location of incident
